"Carved out of its rocky surroundings, this villa epitomizes quintessential luxury island living, just a stroll away from Psarou beach and a short drive away from picturesque Chora and its lively cosmopolitan feel".

The stark contrast between the whitewashed cubic shape so typical of the Cycladic architecture and the emerald waters of the bay below create a mesmerizing effect which will be hard to leave behind. Through ample windows and archways the spacious interior seamlessly blends with the outdoors where the large infinity pool built right on the edge of the terrace affords the most enchanting vista. Cocooning around the pool or sipping a fine cocktail at the pool bar under the star-filled sky is the epitome of relaxation. The three levels of the house share its five bedrooms with the most privileged being the top level occupied solely by a master en-suite bedroom with walk-in closet. The living and dining area along with one double en-suite bedroom are found on the ground floor while the rest two double bedrooms are hosted on the lower level.
